Touring 2014 & 2015

Mega is an audio walking experience for one person... in a pink shell suit.

Back in 1990 hopeful property developers, sensing that a coming American airbase brought with it great riches, built a space-ship shaped restaurant on the side of the A14 motorway near Peterborough. This restaurant was called Megatron.

As a 9 year old Bryony Kimmings remembers the hysteria this Mecca of overpriced hamburgers, complete with touch screen ordering systems and robot waiters, brought to her little town, the lasting memory however was its sad demise.

Bryony Kimmings invites you to become her 9-year-old self, pull on a shell suit, grab a Walkman and embark on a trip down memory lane. This is a coming of age tale of one hot summer, schoolgirl dreams and those growing up moments when the magnificent becomes the mundane.

About the Production

The Megal! experience is run by 2 Bryony Kimmings assistants, lasts 18 minutes and is for up to six people at a time; but this could be more, talk to us about what would work for your venue or event. It is best suited to built-up urban areas where there is lots of concrete, housing estates or back streets.

The experience begins and ends at a designated area in the venue - this could be a room, a gallery, a space or the foyer. This space must be a white space and have 2 x 13amp fuses, a wall to attach a neon sign and 2 fresnels on stands, or equivalent, to light the space. We will provide the furniture for the space, which consists of a white desk, shelving units and chequered lino; along with the neon sign.

Audience members are asked to leave their belongings and are given a pink shell suit and an iPod as they are sent off into the world of nine-year-old Bryony Kimmings, heading out into the streets around the venue to listen to the story.

The get in is a minimum of 3 hours with one venue technician - the show requires a site visit in advance, which the company will arrange and is included in the fee.

Audience & Press Reviews

"This trippy time travel experience is so engaging that I was briefly tempted to chuck away my pen and throw some shapes"

-Evening Standard

"Megal was a great addition to the Imagine children's festival. It gave adults permission to tap into their inner child whilst reminding us that children have an important voice in society. Plus who doesn't love wearing a pink, shiny shellsuit!"

-Southbank Centre

"Felt, and still feel like a true 9 year old. Refreshing, uplifting and so much fun. I blew bubbles at people and danced like a loony child!"

-Audience member, Pulse Festival

About the Artist

Bryony Kimmings is a Performance Artist. She creates theatre, cabaret and comedy work, music, sound installations and documentary films. She is inspired by the taboos and anomalies of western culture and her autobiographical themes promote the airing of her own dirty laundry to oil conversations on seemingly difficult subjects. Her work follows real life social experiments that she embarks upon with genuine genius intrigue and wholehearted, fearless gusto. A Kimmings show is exceedingly honest, visually resplendent, gutsy as fuck but above all fun. Previous works include Sex Idiot (2010), 7 Day Drunk (2011), Heartache. Heartbreak. (2012) and Credible Likeable Superstar Role Model (2013) Bryony's work has been seen in galleries and theatres across the world and won many awards, most recently at Frieze, Soho Theatre, Antifest (Finland), Culturgest (Portugal), Fusebox Festival (Texas), The Southbank Centre, Brighton Festival, Duckie, The Roundhouse, The Barbican, Latitude and Lisinski (Croatia).

"Bold, brave and very brilliant"

-The Independent

"One of the funniest, most charming things i've seen in an age"

-Time Out

"An unabashedly wacky sweetheart with a delightful anything goes air"

-The Times
